This first ever online auction is an attempt on our part to offer the most exclusive runway pieces designed by Wendell Rodricks to our customers."

Wendell Rodricks, Designer said, "I have always wanted the fashion industry to be size inclusive and this collaboration with aLL: The Plus Size Store (the pioneers of plus size fashion in India), takes it one step further. There are so many restrictions put on plus size fashion whether there are certain colours that flatter their shape or a fixed silhouette. With the aLL PRIMEROcollection, we've broken all these myths and prevailing rules and regulations & the on-line auction of the runway pieces is just so exciting."

The newly showcased aLL PRIMEROcollection addresses the needs of fashion conscious plus size men and women and seeks to break well-established style myths. Our endeavour is to break the stereotypes around plus size fashion and offer them well cut, styled & fashionable outfits.

For most people plus size simply means curvy or voluptuous but there are a range of shapes and sizes under that bracket. aLL: The Plus Size Store and Wendell Rodricks have chosen to embrace and cater to these various shapes and sizes and this is evident through the collection.
